

Best price for a level 3 distribution box

Article Overview

The cost of a level 3 distribution box typically ranges from $200 to $2,000 or more, depending on specifications, materials, protection grade, and included components.

Factors Affecting Price

- Material and Construction: Distribution boxes can be made from aluminum alloy, steel, or plastic, with aluminum generally being the most expensive, followed by steel, and then plastic . High-grade stainless steel or powder-coated enclosures for industrial use increase the cost significantly .
- Protection Rating: Boxes with higher IP ratings (e.g., IP65 for waterproof and dustproof protection) are more expensive due to enhanced durability and safety .
- Internal Components: The price varies depending on whether the box is sold empty or pre-equipped with circuit breakers, surge protectors, busbars, and other protective devices. Fully equipped industrial-grade boxes can cost several times more than basic units .
- Voltage and Amperage Capacity: Higher voltage ratings, three-phase systems, and larger amperage capacities increase the cost, especially for commercial or industrial applications .
- Customization and Smart Features: Options such as custom mounting, labeling, OEM branding, smart monitoring, remote control, and digital displays can significantly affect pricing .
- Installation Costs: Embedded or installed boxes may add $10-$30 per unit to the total cost compared to assembled units .
