

Ireland Construction Distribution Box Switches

Article Overview

Ireland offers a range of suppliers and manufacturers for construction distribution box switches, including Demesne Electrical, Ambrex Switchgear, and Central Switchgear, providing high-quality, standards-compliant solutions.

Key Suppliers and Manufacturers

Demesne Electrical is a leading distributor and importer of electrical control, connectors, switchgear, and installation products in Ireland. They offer Conta-Clip PPVK push-in potential distribution terminals for simplified control cabinet wiring, and PMX fuse holders with silver-plated contacts and IP20 touch-safe design, suitable for panel builders requiring reliable and flexible protection. Ambrex Switchgear, based in Wexford, is an independent Irish-owned manufacturer specializing in bespoke switchgear and distribution panels. They provide design, manufacturing, and on-site commissioning, ensuring compliance with IEC 61439-2 and ECTI regulations. Ambrex focuses on high-quality, type-tested assemblies using top-branded equipment, catering to consultant engineers and electrical contractors across Ireland. Central Switchgear, located in County Roscommon, offers a wide range of products including panel boards, 5000A distribution systems, PDUs, and Power Factor Correction units. They provide both new installations and maintenance services, emphasizing low voltage switchgear and control panels manufactured to industry standards with competitive pricing. National Electrical Wholesalers (NEW) supply switches and sockets suitable for construction projects, including 13A fused spurs and 20A double pole switches, with robust performance and easy installation features.
