

Price of distribution box and electrician's badge

Article Overview

Distribution boxes typically range from $50 to $500 or more depending on specifications, while an electrician's badge cost varies by region and licensing requirements.

Distribution Box Pricing

The cost of a distribution box (DB box) depends on several factors including voltage rating, amperage capacity, number of circuits, material, and additional features like smart monitoring or energy management systems .

- Residential units: Basic single-phase boxes usually cost $50-$150, while more advanced three-phase systems for larger homes may range $200-$400 .
- Commercial/industrial units: Higher capacity and durable enclosures can cost $300-$500 or more, especially if they include smart circuit breakers, energy monitoring, or weather-resistant materials .
- Materials: Common materials include polycarbonate, acrylonitrile styrene acrylate (ASA), or epoxy-coated/powder-coated stainless steel, which can influence the price .
- Installation: Professional installation adds to the total cost, depending on complexity and local labor rates.
