

Ranking of Steel Wire Prefabricated Optical Cable Manufacturers

Article Overview

Top manufacturers of steel wire prefabricated optical cables include Bekaert, ArcelorMittal, Bansal Wire, Corning, and OFS Optics, recognized for their global reach, product quality, and innovation.

Leading Steel Wire Manufacturers for Cable Armouring

- Bekaert – A global leader in steel wire transformation and coating technologies, Bekaert operates in over 120 countries and is renowned for high tensile strength and corrosion-resistant steel wires used in power transmission, telecommunications, and offshore energy cables .
- ArcelorMittal – As the world's largest steel producer, ArcelorMittal supplies high-grade wire rods that serve as the base material for cable armouring, offering extensive production capacity and a robust global logistics network .
- Bansal Wire – One of India's top steel wire manufacturers, Bansal Wire caters to infrastructure and energy sectors in South Asia and beyond, providing a wide range of armouring solutions .
- Fasten Group – Known for specialized steel wire products for cable protection, Fasten Group supports industrial and energy applications with durable and reliable solutions .

Top Fiber Optic Cable Manufacturers Integrating Steel Wire Armouring

- Corning Inc. – Holding a 10.4% global market share, Corning is a pioneer in low-loss optical fiber technology and produces high-performance armored fiber optic cables for long-haul and data center applications
