

Russian Trough-type Cable Tray Price Quote

Article Overview

Trough-type cable trays in Russia typically range from $10 to $25 per meter, depending on material, size, and corrosion protection, with stainless steel options at the higher end.

Overview

Trough-type cable trays are designed to support and protect electrical, control, and communication cables in industrial, commercial, and utility installations. They feature a continuous base that fully encloses the underside of the tray, often with perforations for ventilation and drainage, and are constructed with side rails and transverse rungs for structural support . In Russia, these trays are widely used in industrial plants, energy facilities, and infrastructure projects, with manufacturers like Sevcable Structures, Moskabelmet, and UralTray offering various configurations and materials .

Material and Cost Factors

- Galvanized Steel: Most common, cost-effective, suitable for indoor and semi-protected outdoor environments. Offers good mechanical strength and moderate corrosion resistance .
- Stainless Steel: Higher corrosion resistance, ideal for harsh or chemical environments, priced at the upper range ($20–$25 per meter) due to material cost .
- Polymer/Plastic: Lightweight, budget-friendly, suitable for low-load applications, g...
