

Which manufacturers in Norway sell large quantities of optical cables

Article Overview

Foss Fiber Optics, Fiberworks, Smartoptics, T&G Elektro, N0r5ke Fibre, and Nexans Norway AS are key Norwegian manufacturers supplying large quantities of optical cables.

Key Manufacturers

Foss Fiber Optics Established in 1987, Foss Fiber Optics is one of Norway's largest fiber optic manufacturers. They produce a wide range of standard and customized fiber optic cables, assemblies, and connectors for telecom, defense, offshore, and industrial applications. Their factories in Norway and Slovakia allow for high-volume production, strict quality control, and fast delivery of tailored solutions, including pre-connectorized and ruggedized cables for demanding environments (Foss Fiber Optics) . Fiberworks Fiberworks specializes in fiber optic solutions, offering development, delivery, and testing of fiber optic products. They provide scalable and cost-effective solutions suitable for regional backbone networks and large-scale installations, making them a prominent supplier for bulk orders (Ensun.io) . Smartoptics Smartoptics focuses on optical networking solutions, including optical transceivers and fiber optic cables. Their products emphasize flexibility and scalability, supporting large network deployments and high-volume requirements (Ensun.io) . T&G Elektro T&G Elektro manufactures custom fiber optic cables and connection solutions for sectors such as defense, aerospace, telecom, and energy. Their multiple production facilities enable them to handle large-scale orders efficiently (Ensun.io) . N0r5ke Fibre N0r5ke Fibre constructs and operates long-haul fiber optic infrastructure, providing...
