

Xiaomi Home Smart Power Distribution Box

Article Overview

The Xiaomi Smart Home Power Distribution Box is a versatile smart electrical panel that allows remote and local control of multiple circuits, integrating seamlessly with smart home systems.

Overview

The Xiaomi Smart Home Power Distribution Box is designed to manage and control electrical circuits in homes, apartments, or offices. It provides remote control via mobile apps, enabling users to turn on or off connected devices, monitor energy usage, and automate electrical operations. Some models support integration with Tuya or Xiaomi smart home ecosystems, allowing control through Wi-Fi or even 4G SIM modules for internet-based management .

Features

- Multi-channel control: Depending on the model, the box can have multiple relay outputs (e.g., 4, 8, 16, or 32 channels) to control different circuits independently .
- Energy monitoring: Certain models include energy meters to track electricity consumption in real time .
- Remote and local operation: Users can control the panel locally or remotely via smartphone apps, PC applications, or smart home hubs .
- Flexible installation: Options include wall-mounted or desktop-mounted boxes. Wall-mounted boxes often use standard 86-type surface-mounted back boxes, while des...
